Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate so let them eat anything afterwards.—Advertisement.

WOMEN WHO CANNOT WORK

Read Mrs. Corley's Letter and
Benefit by Her Experience.

Edmund, S. C. — "I was run down with nervousness and female trouble and suffered every month. I was not able to do any work and tried a lot of medicine, but got no relief. I saw your medicine advertised in a little book that was thrown in my door, and I had not taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I could see it was helping me. I am keeping house now and am able to do all of my work. I cannot say enough for your medicine. It has done more for me than any doctor. I have not paper enough to tell you how much it has done for me and for my friends. You may print this letter if you wish." — ELIZABETH C. CORLEY, care of A. P. Corley, Edmund, S. C.

Ability to stand the strain of work is the privilege of the strong and healthy, but how our hearts ache for the weak and sickly women struggling with their daily rounds of household duties, with backaches, headaches, nervousness and almost every movement brings a new pain. Why will not the mass of letters from women all over this country, which we have been publishing, convince such women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help them just as surely as it did Mrs. Corley?

Just a Little Smile

A MISSION IN LIFE.

"Haven't you more money than you need?"

"Yes," admitted Mr. Dustin Stax.

"Then why did you take the trouble to break that competitor?"

"My friend, when I became wealthy, I resolved to devote my fortune to good works. I recognized the dangers of avarice and I made it my duty to discourage grasping nature."

Not Entirely Eliminated.

"Mr. Peckton has sporting proclivities."

"Surely not."

"He seems to take a great interest in the championship fight."

"Well! Well! That just goes to show that even after twenty years of domestic subjugation a man may still have a few red compasses left in his blood."

Previous Training.

"My friend," said the fretful traveler, "our train is two hours late and may be later still, yet you are not at all impatient. How do you manage it, sir?"

"It's this way," said the placid person. "I learned how to wait by living twenty years in a boardinghouse where sixteen other lodgers used the same bathroom."

Growing Up.

"That boy of mine is getting entirely too gay."

"Well, you used to kick him. Why not do it again?"

"His development in weight and reach make me think I had better not risk my theoretical possession of the championship." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

Hard to Locate.

"It seems difficult for our friend to keep his attention on the subject in hand."

"It is," agreed Senator Sorghum. "He's the sort of man who when on the golf links wants to talk politics and when he's in a political conference wants to talk golf."

ON A PLATTER.

"They say his wife fairly worships him."

"I guess that's so, I went out there unexpected the other day and noticed she served up a burnt offering."

C Sharp.

"Yes," said the home-made girl.

As she gave each pad a pat.

"I wish I could B natural."

But then I would B flat."

Looks So, Indeed.

"Well, my dear?"

"The cook has issued an ultimatum."

"What about?"

"She says every time she has an afternoon off our car is in the repair shop and it's beginning to look to her like a put-up job." — Birmingham Age-Herald.

Uncommercialized Statesmanship.

"Do you think money ought to be used in an election?"

"Certainly not," replied Senator Sorghum. "Campaigns have changed. Where a large supply of funds once indicated strength it is now popularly suspected as a confession of weakness."

Didn't Help Any.

"Don't you find it rather lonely here," asked Cholly "with nobody to talk to?"

"Yes," replied the girl with a bored look in her eyes, "and it's getting worse every minute." — Boston Transcript.

Speed.

Gage—"You're quick, aren't you?"

Bright—"Quick? I should say I am. I can turn out the gas, cross the room and then be in bed before it gets dark."

—Answers.

He Was Willing.

Judge—"You attacked this man on the street. Can you deny it?"

Accused—"Yes, I can, your honor, if you think it will help me any."

By Way of Explanation.
"Ah!" sighed the presiding elder, "why do so few parents nowadays sing to their children?"

"One reason I don't," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus, Ridge, "is that the last time I tried it they ganged me till their maw had to fling hot water on 'em to make 'em turn loose." — Kansas City Star.
